Tanner Pharmaceuticals Partners with The MAX Foundation to Provide Unregistered Oncology Products Through Their Compassionate Use Program in Chile

Charlotte, NC- Tanner Pharmaceuticals Inc. (“Tanner”) has partnered with The MAX Foundation (“MAX”) in order to provide patients in Chile an oncology product that currently is unavailable in the market through a compassionate use program.

Since 2012, Tanner Pharmaceuticals and The MAX Foundation have worked together to provide low-income patients in Chile access to product that is currently unavailable for purchase within the country. Products that are provided through this foundation are intended for patients that cannot afford the cost of the product or the importation process.

“We have partnered with various hospitals, clinics and laboratories all over the globe since 2002 in order to provide inexpensive pharmaceuticals that are not currently available in the country,” said Maryori Alvarenga, Director of Sales and Operations for Tanner Pharmaceuticals. “Working with The MAX Foundation has given us the ability to continue offering our services but at a compassionate level in order to provide needy patients the same service and access to product so they can continue their treatment. We are pleased to be part of this partnership.”

The MAX Foundation (MAX) is a US-registered non-profit organization with a global focus on cancer. The organization serves people living with blood and rare cancer worldwide by facilitating access to treatment, supporting patients, partnering with healthcare providers and building advocacy efforts in communities around the world.

The MAX Global Helpline provides FREE services of advocacy, emotional support, informational referrals and fundraising mentorship. Through a highly dedicated team of US and local advocates based in targeted countries, families receive personalized support services. Each year MAX provides FREE services to over 23,000 families in more than 100 countries.

“Our vision at The MAX Foundation is a world in which all cancer survivors have access to the best treatments, care, and support available.”
